1. Hens Party Dares

This would have to be the most popular game to play at any Hens Night. Hens Party Dares are challenges the Bridesmaids come up with prior to the event which the Bride must accomplish during her special night out! Suggested dares include:

- Have a shot without using your hands
- Swap an article of clothing with a man
- Get a male to give you his knickers (Y front and boxers!)
- Ask for a male's phone number
- Find a guy to practise the Bridal Waltz with
- Wear a bra on the outside of your clothes
- pinch five strangers' bums (male or female!)
- Get a piggy back ride around the bar
- Find a condom off a stranger and blow it up
- Do a sexy dance on a table
- Do a chicken dance around the bar
- Find a man with the same shoe size as hubby to be
- Kiss the next man who walks into the room (on the cheek!)
- rub face in a guy's hairy chest
- kiss the first guy with a moustache (on the cheek!)
- find a divorced man and find out three things not to do so marriage works
- find a pole or column and work it like a stripper
- do a body shot
- go for a wizz in men's toilets
- ask a male to buy you a drink
- kiss a bald mans bald spot
- collect five males' business cards
- ask a male to paint your toe nails
- get a group photo with all guests so last single night can be remembered!

2. How well does the Bride know her hubby to be?

Before the Hens Party make a list of questions to ask the Groom (make sure you get the answers!) so you can then ask the Bride to see how well she really knows the man she is about to marry!!!

Here's some examples of questions to ask:

- What's his favourite colour?
- What was his first pet?
- What's his favourite flavour of ice cream?
- What's his shoe size?
- How old was he when he got his driver's licence?
- Where was he born?
- What's his favourite song?
- What is his favourite book?
- What is his favourite movie?
- What was his least favourite subject in school?
- Who was his childhood best friend?
- If he could take four people on a holiday who would they be?
- What's his nickname?
- What's his favourite sport?
- What's his favourite clothing item?
- Who's his favourite band?
- Who's his favourite sibling?
- How many ex girlfriends does he have?
- What's his favourite food?
- What is his favourite restaurant?
- What is his favourite holiday destination?
- What was his first job?
- What is his favourite quality about you?
- What is his favourite position (leave this up for interpretation! it could mean position at work, sport etc)

3. How well do you know the Bride?

Prior to the Hens do, the Bride to be makes up 20 or so questions about herself and prints them out to give to each guest. Everyone sits in a circle or stands with drink in hand. One by one, each guest reads out the question and tries to answer it. If guest cannot answer it, anyone can before the Bride reveals the correct answer. The guest with the most correct answers wins. The Bride can keep all the questions with the answers as a keepsake.

Questions can include:

- middle name
- birth date
- favourite TV show
- high school attended
- how many boyfriends had previously
- shoe size
- crush on which celebrity
- craziest thing she ever did
- who's the ring bearer
- how did the Bride to be and Groom meet
- name she wants for first child
- favourite music artist(s)
- where going for honeymoon
- pet name for husband-to-be
- husband to be's pet name for Bride
- Bride's worst habit
- date and time of wedding
- most hated food, favourite food
- how long have bride and groom been together
- most prized possession etc

4. Hens Scavenger Hunt

Make the Bride go on a Scavenger Hunt! Make a list of items that the Bride has to collect during her Hens Party. Suggested items include:

- Male's business card
- Male chest hair
- Undies – a pair of Y fronts and a pair of boxers
- Male's phone number
- Male's shirt button
- Condom
- Drink coaster from every place visited

5. Design the Wedding Dress

All you need for this game are the guests and lots of rolls of toilet paper! Split guests into even groups. All groups have 10 minutes to dress one of the group members up as a Bride using toilet paper only! Dress, veil, shoes, jewellery, you can go the whole lot as long as it is made of toilet paper! The real 'Bride' then picks the best dressed winner and the whole winning group receives a prize.

6. The Handbag Game

Hens parties usually have guests from all walks of life so an ice breaker is needed to help kick the event off and what better opportunity to get to know each other than by playing the Handbag game! All guests need to take three items out of their handbag and place in a brown paper bag. The Bride to be chooses a paper bag one by one and pulls out the items. The Bride and other guests must guess whose items they belong to. Keep a tally and the person with the most correct guesses is deemed the winner!

7. Pass the Parcel

Everyone loves Pass the Parcel! Play it exactly the same as your childhood days except replace the toys and lollies between the wrappers with naughty prizes i.e. pecka pops, condoms, pecka whistles, pecka pen etc For extra fun make sure the music you choose is sexy and out there so everyone gets excited!!

8. Post it Note Game

Everyone at the Hens Party receives a post it note and pen. All guests have to write something they know or remember about the Bride. Post it notes are then stuck on the wall so Bride cannot see who has written what. Bride then pulls them off one by one and has to try and guess who wrote it and then tells the story of where it came from. Topics can be anything and may include past boyfriends, dates, holidays, school, uni stories, and family, absolutely anything!!!

9. Play Dough Mould Making

All Hens Party guests are given a tub of play dough in which they must create a life size model of the husband to be's pecka! The Bride will then be the judge of who got it closest to the real thing! The owner of the sculpture most accurate will be deemed the winner.

10. Truth or Dare

Everyone MUST play this game! Pre organise a list of questions for everyone to answer and a list of dares in case guests choose the dare over answering the question truthfully! Place them in a bowl (one bowl for questions and one bowl for dares). Each person is then asked the first question: Truth or Dare. If they select Truth then they must answer whatever question they pull out of the bowl truthfully. This can take courage depending on the question ... If the guest chooses a dare then they must pull out a dare from the 'Dare bowl' to attempt. Be creative with questions and dares and be considerate of the guests attending so make sure dares and questions are fun but realistic!

Example questions and dares include:

Questions:

- When was your first kiss
- Have you ever committed a crime?
- Have you ever had a Brazillian?
- Have you ever been with a male who's had a back, sack and crack wax?
- What is the worst lie you have ever told?
- Have you ever been whistled at by work men?
- Have you ever been with a girl?
- Have you ever gone skinny-dipping and with who?
- Have you ever been to a strip club
- What is the most embarrassing thing that has ever happened to you?
- Do you have any secret talents (like touching your nose with the tip of your tongue, lifting your leg to your head etc)

10. Truth or Dare continued

- What is the stupidest thing you have ever said?
- Have you ever cheated on a boyfriend?
- What is the meanest thing you have ever said or done?
- What is your wildest fantasy, and who does it involve?
- Have you ever had sex in public? Where?
- What is your partner's worst habit?
- Have you ever peed outdoors, if yes where?

Dares:

- Flash to the group!
- Dance like an Egyptian
- Skull two shots
- Kiss a guest on the lips
- Sing the alphabet – backwards and in tune!
- Do five push ups
- Hop on one leg for one minute
- Take clothes off and run down the street in underwear
- Go out in public and sing 'Like a Virgin' at the top of lungs
- Call a friend, sing Whitney Houston's 'I will always love you' and hang up without a word
- Count to 50 dancing like a chicken
- Remove bra without taking top off
- Stand out on the street and yell 'I am horny'
- Write a love letter to partner and read it aloud
- Take underwear off and go commando for the rest of the night!

11. Pecka Cup Cake Cook Off

This game is fun for all and everyone can be involved whether you can cook or not and is one of the few times you can choose how your pecka looks!!! Pre purchase Pecka Products 'Pecka Cup Cake' trays, and using any cake mix, bake some fresh pecka delights (pecka cakes can be made prior to guests arriving if time permits or else baking can be part of the game!). All guests need to ice and decorate their own individual pecka with the Bride to be judging the most creative and best dressed pecka! The best part is all guests can eat their pecka at the end!

12. Pash the Poster

All you need for this game is a blown up picture of the bride's favourite hunk, can be anyone except their hubby to be i.e. model, movie star, singer, tv star or superhero, a scarf, and some lipstick! Stick the picture up on the wall and get all the guests to put some lipstick on. Use the scarf to blindfold each participant, spin them around and then get them to try and 'pash' the poster of the hunk! Write each person's name next to their lipstick mark and whoever gets the closest to 'pashing' the hunk on the mouth wins a prize! Make sure you have some butchers paper behind the poster to ensure no lipstick gets on the wall if someone happens to misdirect their pash!

13. I Never

I Never – This is a classic game that everyone at the Hens Party can join in! One person starts by saying, 'I never..' and then tells the group something she has never done. If anyone in the group has actually done it, then they have to drink. The game keeps going until everyone's had at least one go or until you find out everything you can about the group!

14. Banned Words

Choose a list of words that cannot be mentioned during the duration of the Hens party. Make sure you choose common words so party guests can be caught using them! Every time someone uses a banned word they receive a 'punishment'. Punishments can include, a dare, pay a fine or skull a drink! This game can go all night, the longer the better!

15. Ugliest Picture

Everyone has a photo of themselves/ loved ones they hate and wish they could make disappear, well this is the one occasion you need it to appear! Each guest has the job of digging up a not so nice picture of the groom. You want to find the 'ugliest' one possible. Everyone then agrees on the worst and passes it onto the Bride. The Bride must go around and show everyone she meets who she is marrying! Very entertaining and guaranteed lots of laughs!

16. Balloon Jiggy Jig

Split into equal teams, send teams up either end of a room or open space. Make sure you have some long balloons (or alternatively use Pecka Products balloons) blow them up, put between the legs of the person at front of line and then they must jiggle up the other end and get it in between the legs of the other person without using hands!!! Continue until through the line. If you drop or pop the balloon you are out. Look out for the nice pelvic movements! Award the winner (last one left) with a small novelty item prize!!!

17. Find the Cherry

This is a little naughty but fun game!!! Get everyone at the party into a circle and ask who would like to regain her virginity! Once you have your volunteers (you will be surprised at how many will want to play this game!) place them in front of a table with a bowl in front of each of them with a cherry placed in each bowl (cherry can be fruit or lolly). The aim of the game is to see who can eat their cherry first and don't forget no hands can be used! Make it more exciting by covering the cherry with whipped cream and now watch as the guests try to get their cherry back!

18. Pass the Bouquet

Similar to pass the parcel all guests make a circle ensuring they are standing facing the wall. The music man (someone will need to be appointed DJ for this game!) will stand with her back against the members so that she does not know what is happening behind her. The DJ will play the music and as the music is going the 'Bouquet' (can be real flowers or fake) will be passed on to the next person and so on until the music stops. When the DJ stops the music the person holding the bouquet at the time will be eliminated. The last person standing with the bouquet will be deemed the winner!

19. Pin the Bouquet on the Bride

Like the traditional Pin the Tail on the Donkey this game works the same except instead of the picture of a donkey you blow up a picture of the Bride (make sure her arms and hands are intact!). One at a time, a guest is blindfolded and must try to pin a flower onto the Bride's hand in the picture. The guest's name is written beside their flower and the picture can be given to the Bride as keepsake.

20. Souvenir Collection

Before setting out on the town for your big night out, make a list of items that EVERYONE in the group needs to collect as you go from place to place. Be creative when writing the list. Some ideas to help are: a drink coaster, a man's phone number, a bar mat, a box of matches, owner's business card, a shot glass and bar of soap from bathroom etc.

21. Word Scramble

Make a list of words related to hens parties, weddings, engagements etc and then scramble up the letters of each word and put onto a piece of paper. Once all words are written down scrambled on individual pieces of paper, place in a bucket/ bowl. Each guest then needs to pick out a word and try to unscramble it. The one who guesses the most correct words is deemed the winner.

22. Make Up the Bride

Pre warn a few guests to get all their old makeup out (the more ghastly the better!) Bring it all to the party and have the Bride sit in the middle of the room. Each guest then takes it in turn to be blindfolded, is pointed in the direction of the Bride and away she goes as she attempts to makeup the Bride! Don't forget to take photos of this for the Bride as a memento! And you may need makeup remover if you're planning on leaving the house!!!!

23. Hit the Target

This game requires having a partner. You will also need rolls of toilet paper and a couple of broom sticks! One person holds a roll of toilet paper between their knees. The other person holds a broom or stick between their knees. Both people need to be blindfolded. The person with the toilet paper grabs their partner's hands and guides them to getting the stick in the hole of the toilet paper. The person who gets the stick into the hole first is deemed the winner. This can be done one at a time or pair up the partners to see who wins first.

24. Hanging out to Dry

Each guest is given a clothes peg on arrival to the Hen's Party. Guests are told of two words they cannot mention the entire night i.e. 'wedding' and the groom's name. If they say the forbidden word, they have to give their clothes peg to the person who caught them mentioning the forbidden word. The person who has the most clothes pegs at the end of the party wins the prize!

25. Balloon Pop Questions

Scribble down on individual pieces of paper some really embarrassing questions for the Bride to answer. Fold or roll up questions and put them inside balloons and then inflate them. Throughout the night throw up a balloon, the Bride needs to pop it, read out the question and then give her answer. If she gets the answer wrong or if she refuses to answer, she must have a shot or skull a drink. Continue until all questions have been answered. The bolder the questions the more fun this game can be!

26. Suck for a Buck Game

This is one tee shirt which is meant to get dirty! The aim of the game is to see if all the candy can be sucked off in one night! This cute tee available from Pecka Products comes with ribbon attached to the lips and a roll of candy so all you need to do is tie a bow around the candy and away you go! Don't forget to collect your buck after each suck!!

27. Bridal Pictionary

Bridal Pictionary is based on the well known Pictionary game. All you will need for this game is large sheets of paper, marker pens or crayons and guests! Prior to the party, the Bridesmaids should think of as many words as possible that are related to weddings and marriages. Some examples are bouquet, ring, car, church, cake, bride, groom etc.

The best way to play the game is to divide the guests into two teams. To make it fun, give the teams an outrageous name each! All the words the Bridesmaids came up with are written down on individual pieces of paper and placed into a bowl/ basket. Choose a team to start. The first person in that team pulls a word out of the bowl and has to draw that word in pictures on the big sheet of paper so everyone can see. The other girls on her team now need to try and guess the word she is drawing. If they are unable to guess, the other team has the chance to guess. The team that guesses the most correct answers are deemed the winners!

28. Pecka Ring Toss

We've all played a game of Quoits growing up but how many have had a chance at tossing a ring on a pecka! Well now it's time to relive your childhood with a bit of adult fun. You can purchase your 'Pecka Ring Toss' game online from Pecka Products. With 5 rings to toss and pecka standing approx 15cm high, you will be able to enjoy this game anywhere, anytime!

29. Hens Karaoke

Everyone loves karaoke! This can be done with a small or large group and is often best incorporated at the latter part of the evening. Choose 2 or 3 songs for the Bride to sing and don't forget a group song and what about a duet with the mother in law! Song choice is important! Great examples are..... 'I am woman hear me roar', 'It's raining men', 'I will always love you', 'Going to the Chapel...'. The options are endless!

30. The Purse Game

This is a fun game which rewards the girl with the craziest purse contents. Nothing is needed for this game except its best to ask permission of all guests if they are happy to share the contents of their bag!

Each item in a bag has a score and the guest with the highest score at the end of the game wins! Below is a list of suggested items but you can add to this list and change points as you desire.
